If you are coming to Cornwall from the North - Exeter, Birmingham and beyond:

You should travel down the A30. After bypassing Bodmin you will, after a while, come across two wind farms as you travel down the A30 towards Penzance. The first of these is at Carland Cross - over the road from a Shell garage on your left. Continue over the roundabout and travel for about 5 miles. Take the left turning signposted to Truro and Shortlanesend - the B3284. There is a wind farm immediately on your right as you travel down the B3284. As you approach Shortlanesend, just past the garage on your right is a turning to the left - Forge Way. Take this and go over the junction into Idless Lane for 1.2 miles. We are the second house on the left hand side. Cream in colour with a high stone wall. Park in the car park on your left.

Directions:

If your coming from the A39 (St Austell) via Truro:

Straight over & up hill, under viaduct. There is a pub - City Inn on left hand side. Take second road on right - Higher Trehaverne.
